

The radio and television airwaves are public property that must be used to serve the public interest. The preservation of an open and diverse marketplace of ideas is the cornerstone of a free society. Preserve our freedom and do not modify the present ownership rules.